New Wellness Platform Differentiates Your Brand While Fitting Your Unique Requirements

More than 100 tools can be combined to create your wellness services applications

Mountain View, California – February 15, 2006 – Nutrihand Inc., the leading provider of wellness tools to patients with chronic diseases and to healthcare providers, today announced the release of its new online Wellness Platform. Business can now provide wellness service to their customers based on their requirements, fast and at low cost.

They can create unique applications that fit their needs while differentiating them from their competitors. It is an outstanding way to promote products, enhance brand reach and develop a tighter channel of communication between business and their customers.

Nutrihand's on-demand enterprise platform is flexible, scalable and easily customizable per business partner as well as per unique users. No more proprietary code developed by advertisement agencies. Now, they can use our Wellness Platform to deliver wellness applications to their clients with high quality, in record time.

Nutrihand platform provides planning, tracking, analyzing and reporting tools for meals, fitness and medical information. Its large database includes nutritional facts for over 15,000 foods, hundreds of exercises caloric burn-out values, over 300 diet plans for 9 different caloric levels and dozens of fitness plans.

All a business need is a link to start using a branded version of the platform. Your portal can be delivered in a couple of weeks depending on the level of customization.

"Nutrihand Wellness Platform allows the manufacturing industry, hospitals, clinics, fitness clubs, and businesses in general, to connect with users by delivering value added wellness applications," says Soraya Bittencourt, Nutrihand founder and CEO – original Expedia.com.
